

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TAX DIVISION
CRIMINAL ENFORCEMENT SECTIONS
VOLUNTEER/WORK-STUDY LEGAL INTERN POSITIONS

The Tax Division's Criminal Enforcement Sections handle or supervise federal criminal tax prosecutions throughout the nation. Criminal tax cases generally involve such crimes as tax evasions, failure to file tax returns, and filing false tax returns, but also include cases involving financial institution fraud, health care fraud, organized crime activities, and narcotics trafficking.

POSITION LOCATION(S): Washington, D.C.

QUALIFICATIONS: First-year (second semester only), second- and third-year law students

DATE POSITION(S) AVAILABLE: Fall Semester (September – December)
Spring Semester (January – May)

Positions are available for a single semester as well as for the whole academic year.

ASSIGNMENTS: Legal interns work closely with federal prosecutors to research legal issues relevant to pending criminal investigations, prosecutions and appeals. Their work generally involves writing legal memoranda or briefs. Interns also help attorneys prepare for trials by arranging exhibits and organizing case files. Interns must be able to grasp issues quickly; conduct research thoroughly and accurately; and write clearly and concisely.

SALARY: Volunteer (without compensation) or work-study credit only.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: If you are interested in this position and have a solid academic record and excellent legal research and writing skills, please submit a resume, writing sample, and law school transcript (official or unofficial) to:
